Together

"A loving person lives in a loving world. A hostile person lives in a hostile world. Everyone you meet is your mirror." - Ken Keyes

Some more humorous person said, "If you meet a jerk, then you met a jerk. But, if everyone you meet is a jerk, then you are the jerk."

Change your thoughts and change your world is easy to say, but harder to do. Mainly because I don't see myself as a jerk. Going back to the Scottish poet Robert (Robbie) Burns, "Oh would some power the gift give us, To see ourselves as others see us!"

Jesus challenges us along the same line when he says, Matt 7:12 So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets. NIV

In other words, be nice to people! That means responding to their needs and desires. Not being a floor mat, but being aware of their wishes.

Some interpret Jesus to mean give others what you want, like a husband who buys his wife fishing waders. No you treat them according to their need. Don't try to remake them into you or into what you think they need to be. Accept them and be nice to them. Sounds easy enough. Hmmm.

Today and everyday, be loving to others. Even when they don't deserve to be loved. Respond as if Jesus is in your skin, inside of you and making a loving response. It will actually make life more enjoyable and happy.

The purpose of God, the world and other people is not to make me or you happy. It is our purpose to bless the life of others. We, in turn, gain joy when we bless others with love. Change others, by changing myself.

Sermon Topic - Now, I Do What?

Scripture - Hebrews 12:1-2

Paul's Peppery Notes

I thought Sunday was a beautiful day in more ways than one. Easter is always a time when people are more willing to visit a church. We certainly had our share of visitors. Now the desire is that we as a congregation made a really good impression that we will see the visitors again this coming Sunday.

Our attendance at the Northside was not as good as Eastwood's. As we were making our way to the Northside, we noticed that the parks were pretty busy, including Album park. Maybe 12:30 service is not a good time during the holidays. It's hard to compete with fiestas. But our Easter egg hunt and pizza party was a success. The one thing that made our Sunday even more special was the decision of Terry Morales to surrender her life in baptism to Jesus Christ. Terry is a single parent with a very special 9 year old son.

We pray and invite you to join us in praying for the Lord's work in the El Paso area. In saying that we set ourselves to doing more to evangelize in our area. Just a word of encouragement, there are so many ways to evangelize. Find the one that you enjoy more, then go do it. If you are struggling to find your style, come let's visit and we'll surely help you. Call at any time 588-9304. Now lets do it! Paul
