Together

Remember that you were slaves in Egypt; and that the LORD your God brought you out of there with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm. Therefore the LORD your God has commanded you to observe this Sabbath day. Deut 5:15

There are well meaning "Sabbatarians" who assemble on the seventh day to worship. It is their conviction that the observance of the Sabbath goes back to the creation in Gen 2:3.

However, there is no command from the Lord to observe the last day of the week until the giving of the Decalogue in Ex 20 and Deut 5. Ex 20:11 notes the Lord blessed the last day after six days of creation, Deut 5:15 states the Sabbath is to remember their deliverance from slavery in Egypt.

When Jesus was resurrected from the tomb, it was on the first day of the week. When the church was established on the day of Pentecost, it was the first day of the week. The disciples met on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7) to observe the Lord's supper. Paul exhorts the Corinthians to put their contribution aside on the first day of the week. John says in Rev 1:10 On the Lord's Day I was in the Spirit. It is almost unanimous among New Testament scholars, that John means the first day.

While there is not a command given in the NT, there was an immediate switch by the first disciples, who were Jewish, to the first day of the week. Imagine if you will the attitude of the first disciples about the First Day of the Week. Did they treat the day as less important? Did they use the day for personal enjoyment?

Heb 10:25 Let us not give up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another and all the more as you see the day approaching.

Charles M Clodfelter

How To Be A Stupid Parent

1. Discipline your children only when you lose your temper. Let them get away with anything until you're fed up; then, in a spirit of hostility and anger, let 'em have it! Blow your top, holler, get wild, clobber them, and really make a brawl out of it. The children will get a bang out of you.
2. Don't make yourself approachable, you might have to listen and reason with them. If you get too chummy, they'll want to talk things over with you. And who's got time to waste with kids? You've got more important things to do.
3. If they've done wrong, never let them forget it. Keep rubbing it in; they'll loathe you for it.
4. Give your child all the spending money he wants; don't make him earn it. Money in large quantities is an acceptable substitute for love. After awhile he'll want only your money and couldn't care less about you. It's something like starving him on cream puffs.
5. Compare your child with someone else to make him smarten up. Use that beautiful expression, "Why can't you be like Johnny?" He'll despise you and Johnny both!
6. Mother and father should disagree in regard to the rules for their youngsters. Children will then learn to play one parent against the other.
7. Never let the kids think for themselves. They haven't the equipment. (The reason may be in their heredity or environment.) Make all the decisions for them so they'll never be able to handle life.
8. Treat them with suspicion. Never trust the sneaky little characters.

If they turn out well, it won't be your fault. IT'LL BE A MIRACLE OF THE HIGHEST ORDER!
