Together

Spring begins with the Vernal Equinox on March 20 at 5:01 a.m..

Summer begins with the Summer Solstice on June 20 at 10:42 p.m.

Fall begins with the Autumnal Equinox on September 22 at 2:19 a.m.

Winter begins with the Winter Solstice on December 21 at 10:03 a.m.

These dates will vary by as much as a day because the rotation of the earth around the sun is 365.25 days. Farmers keep up these dates and also the coming rain in their area. It is important for farmers do know when they should plant and when to harvest. Their very lives depend on doing it right.

Jesus uses parables to teach his disciples about the importance of evangelism. Our opportunity is similar to the farmer but it is also different. Different because the time of planting and of harvesting is always now. We must plant if we expect to have a harvest. We plant by our life example, but that is not enough. We must eventually share the word, which is the message of the Gospel.

Your friends, co-workers, neighbors and family all know that you are a good person, but have you shared the Why? Have you asked any to attend worship with you? If they attended, did you ask them again?

In the parable of the Sower, we learn of different types of soil: some is more receptive than others. Farmers learn that some soil will be a waste of their time and seed. Disciples are not able to make such determinations, so while we sow the seed everywhere, we also know it is a waste of time to devote all of our efforts on one person who rejects Jesus.

If we believe that Jesus is the Son of God, who came to save us and the entire world, we must share that wonderful news. Our present world is in need of salvation as much as it has ever been in the annals of history. Every disciple has the responsibility and obligation to share the gospel with others.

Disciples are taught by Jesus that the field is ready to harvest, but the labors are few. If a disciple does not share the good news of Jesus, what does that say about our faith?

Sunday Morning Sermon

Speaker - Enrique Carrillo

Sermon: Bastions in the Heart

Scripture: 1 Corinthians 13:13

NOT OF THIS WORLD

But he continued, "You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. John 8:23 Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jews. But now my kingdom is from another place. John 18:36

Most disciples are comfortable with the concept of Jesus being "not of this world." The challenge begins when we seek to be like him and to live as if this world is not important to us. These verses speak to the challenge. Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For everything in the world--the cravings of sinful man, the lust of his eyes and the boasting of what he has and does -- comes not from the Father but from the world. 1 John 1:15f

This world and everything in it will pass away. It will be destroyed when Jesus returns and we will have a new, spiritual, heavenly home with the divine. All that the world thinks is important is not! Disciples are to understand the differences between the spiritual and physical. Yes, this world that YHWH created for humankind is wonderful and it is a joy to be here, even though we have problems from time to time.

Heaven will be so much better, we will not miss the joys of earth. We may have some fond memories of this world, perhaps chopping wood in the snow to use in a potbellied stove, but we are not about to go back to using that stove and tearing out the central heat. But, heaven is not just an improvement on the life we have here, it is totally different and superior.

Heaven is beyond man's conception, beyond our wildest dreams. As YHWH's children, we will live as He lives, in a realm that is beyond our understanding, at this time. Our challenge? Live as children of YHWH, Jesus as our brother, as spiritual beings, who understand this world is not our home.

"Time"

Time is too slow for those who wait,
too swift for those who fear,
too long for those who grieve,
too short for those who rejoice.
But for those who love,
time is eternity—Henry Van Dyke

Valentines for kids

Valentine's Day isn't just for school children and sweethearts. Loving parents should strive to give their children these life-changing gifts during February and beyond.

- Acceptance: Say and show that you love children for who they are. Give this gift with a kiss.
 - Self-confidence: Help boost kids' trust in themselves. Give this gift with a hug.
 - Peace: Model how to give your worries to God. Offer this present with laughter.
 - Gratitude: Help children be genuinely thankful for each new day and for all of life. Give this gift as they go out the door.
- Faith: Introduce children to Jesus, the best friend they'll ever have. Do this by taking them to church and Sunday school regularly.

All the ways God helps us

When young adults land in difficult situations and desperately call home, parents respond in various ways. They might remind their son or daughter of guidelines learned years back — behavior and problem-solving skills to get back on track. Or maybe parents direct their kids to a mentor, expert or resource for assistance. But if the crisis is severe, no doubt these loving parents hop in the car, or even on a plane, and go to their child. They embrace and support them, perhaps even taking initial steps to bring them through the chaos to a new beginning.

When the people of Israel were in the wilderness, exile and countless difficulties in between, God lovingly used each of these strategies. God reminded Israel of the Ten Commandments and other laws he gave to guide their life together. Sometimes he sent prophets and other leaders to direct the people into better ways and times. God does the same today, reminding us of Scripture's guidance and sending us prophetic voices and wise leaders.

Above all, when nothing less would save people, ancient and modern, from the dangers of sin and death, God came to us as Jesus. God's only Son walked with us, lived through our troubles alongside us, taught us new ways directly and brought us out of the problematic place where we were trapped and into a new beginning.
